

Yes, it is true that Antarctica is the coldest, windiest and least-populated of any of the world's continents. It is wilderness in the truest sense of the word. It is also a continent protected by an international collaboration that is, especially when seen through the lens of past and current global conflicts, unprecedented. And it is home to some of the most amazing wildlife imaginable – penguins, seals and whales to name but a few. For all of these reasons, and hundreds more, Antarctica worms its way into your soul. Its silence becomes a call you will hear in your dreams forever.

“Antarctic Silence” was sketched and painted on my iPad. If you like my art, you can show appreciation by supporting my work through a purchase here — on my art website at Fine Art America. This image is available in all sizes and suitable for framing. It is also available on coffee mugs, pillows, smartphone cases, notecards and more.

© Michael Hodgson – HITravelTales.com